

Emphasis

EXERCISE 1 Find all instances of emphasis in this text. What different kinds of emphasis are there?

Aunt Elizabeth: Oh, Tom, Emma! It's so nice that you could come! Do come in.

Tom: Thanks, Aunt Elizabeth. Oh, that does smell good. Is that fresh apple cake?

Aunt: Yes, you're right! I know that it's apple cake that you like best. It will have to cool for another hour, but I've also made a few sandwiches. And there's lemonade, too. I've made it myself from organic lemons. Do have some!

Emma: Thanks! But what I'd really like now is a cup of coffee. I'm a bit tired. Could I have some?

Aunt: Well, of course! Did you really think I wouldn't have coffee ready when you're coming?

Emma: Not for a moment could I believe such a thing!

EXERCISE 2 Inversion. Fill in: hardly – than – way – only – did – then – had – never – moment

- No _____ am I going to jump into that lake!
- Not _____ do I know that you're wrong, but I can also prove it.
- At no point _____ he realize that everyone was making fun of him.
- _____ had she finished the task when her teacher gave her the next one.
- Not for a _____ did I believe him.
- No sooner had I reached the door _____ I realized it was locked.
- Only _____ did I know what I had got myself into.
- Hardly _____ we started the game when it started to rain.
- _____ had the government made such a great mistake.

EXERCISE 3 Translate these sentences into English, using inversion to add emphasis.

- Kaum hatte ich das Auto gewaschen, fing es an zu regnen.
- Erst dann bemerkten sie, dass es zu spät war.
- Er spricht nicht nur Französisch, sondern kann auch köstliche Froschschenkel machen.
- Erst, als ich nach Hause kam, bemerkte ich, dass mein Schlüssel weg war.
- Keine Sekunde lang dachte er darüber nach.
- Er arbeitete nicht nur im Supermarkt, sondern auch in der Bibliothek.
- Nie hatte ich so etwas gesehen.

EXERCISE 4 Use do / did to add emphasis.

- Why didn't you answer my email? – I did answer it, but my internet connection broke down before I could send it.
- Would you like some ice-cream? – Yes, please. I _____ (like) ice-cream!
- This lemonade is delicious. – Oh, _____ (have) some more, please!
- I'm sorry I can't come to your party, Steve. I _____ (want) to come, but I have to help my mum that night.
- Kids today don't respect their parents anymore. – I disagree. I think most of us _____ our parents.
- Joe, why haven't you done your homework? – But I _____ it. I just can't find it!

- g) _____ (be) quiet – the baby is sleeping!
 h) Usually I don't like fish, but this fish soup _____ (taste) good!

EXERCISE 5 Use an it is / it was ... who/which/when ... construction to emphasize the word in bold print.

- a) Lucy saw the hedgehog. -> It was Lucy who saw the hedgehog.
 b) Columbus discovered America in 1499.
 c) The original of this painting is displayed in the Louvre.
 d) We are going to visit my grandmother.
 e) They called Emma yesterday.
 f) Arthur Conan Doyle invented Sherlock Holmes.

EXERCISE 6 Fill in the right words.

- a) What she told me _____ very interesting.
 b) What I _____ was to get a lawyer.
 c) What he found _____ an old chest full of gold coins.
 d) That is _____ she told me.
 e) What we did was _____ complain to the manager.

EXERCISE 7 Use a reflexive pronoun (-self, -selves) to add emphasis.

- a) The Queen doesn't give interviews.
 b) Scientists admit that there is no proof for the theory.
 c) The president has not issued a statement.
 d) The secret service does not use this technology.
 e) The author said that her work had been completely misinterpreted.

EXERCISE 8 Find the fitting adverb of degree.

- a) Peter was _____ (extrem) shocked.
 b) This young pianist is _____ (unglaublich) talented.
 c) That was _____ (wirklich) nice.
 d) This soup is _____ (viel) too hot.
 e) He is _____ (erst) twelve years old.
 f) This book is _____ (ziemlich) interessant.
 g) It is _____ (sehr) cold outside.
 h) My car is slow, but yours is _____ (sogar noch) slower.

EXERCISE 9 Hier sind alle Formen von Betonung vermischt. Vervollständige die Sätze.

- a) He doesn't like dogs, does he? – Oh no, that's not true! He ...
 b) Do you think he stole the jewels? – No, no way ...!
 c) Who saw the accident happen? Was it Lucy? – No, ...!
 d) So they were trapped in the cave? How did they get out of there? – Well, ...
 e) What did the prime minister say about the affair? - ...
 f) Was the book interesting? - ...
 g) Can I have a cookie, please? – Of course, ...

Lösungen

EXERCISE 1 Aunt Elizabeth: Oh, Tom, Emma! It's so nice that you could come! Do come in.

Tom: Thanks, Aunt Elizabeth. Oh, that does smell good. Is that apple cake?

Aunt: Yes, you're right! I know that it's apple cake that you like best. It will have to cool for another hour, but I've made a few sandwiches. And there's lemonade, too. I've made it myself from organic lemons. Do have some!

Emma: Thanks! But what I'd really like now is a cup of coffee. I'm a bit tired. Could I have some?

Aunt: Well, of course! Did you really think I wouldn't have coffee ready when you're coming?

Emma: Not for a moment could I believe such a thing!

EXERCISE 2 a) No way am I going to jump ...!

c) At no point did he ...

e) Not for a moment did I believe ...

g) Only then did I know ...

i) Never had the government ...

b) Not only do I know ...

d) Hardly had she finished ...

f) No sooner had I ... than I realized ...

h) Hardly had we started ...

EXERCISE 3 a) Hardly had I washed the car when it started to rain.

b) Only then did they notice that it was too late.

c) Not only does he speak French, but he can also make delicious frog legs.

d) Only when I got home did I notice that my key was gone.

e) Not for a second did he think about it.

f) Not only did he work at the supermarket but also at the library.

g) Never had I seen such a thing.

EXERCISE 4 b) I do like ice-cream!

d) I do want to come, but ...

f) But I did do it.

h) ... this fish soup does taste good!

c) Oh, do have some more, please!

e) I think most of us do respect our parents.

g) Do be quiet – the baby is sleeping!

EXERCISE 5 b) It was in 1499 that Columbus discovered America.

c) It is in the Louvre where the original of this painting is displayed.

d) It is my grandma (who) we're going to visit.

e) It was yesterday that they called Emma.

f) It was Arthur Conan Doyle who invented Sherlock Holmes.

EXERCISE 6 a) What she told me was very interesting.

c) What he found was an old chest full of gold coins.

e) What we did was (to) complain to the manager.

b) What I did was to get a lawyer.

d) That is what she told me.

EXERCISE 7 a) The Queen herself doesn't ...

c) The president himself has not ...

e) The author herself said that ...

b) Scientists themselves admit ...

d) The secret service itself does not use ...

EXERCISE 8 a) Peter was extremely shocked.

c) That was really nice.

e) He is only twelve years old.

g) It is very cold outside.

b) This young pianist is incredibly talented.

d) This soup is much too hot.

f) This book is pretty interesting.

h) My car is slow, but yours is even slower.

EXERCISE 9 a) He does like them.

c) No, it was not Lucy who saw it.

e) The prime minister himself didn't say anything.

f) It was incredibly interesting. / Not only was it interesting, it was also very thought-provoking.

g) Of course, do help yourself!

b) No, no way did he do that!

d) Well, what they did was to find another exit.